

SPECIAL ISSUE ANNOUNCEMENT

CALL FOR PAPERS:

Pharmacoeconomics and Access to Quality Medications

The Global Journal on Quality and Safety in Healthcare (JQSH) is seeking submissions for an upcoming special issue devoted to “Pharmacoeconomics and Access to Quality Medications.” The issue will include original research, reviews, case reports, and commentaries covering relevant topics.

Topics for Consideration Include:

- Application of pharmacoeconomics principles at national or local levels
- Cost effectiveness and access to medications
- Controlling access to quality medications
- Studies of biosimilars and biologics
- Determining the quality of generic medicine
- Controlling the risks of counterfeit and subpar medicines

To be considered for the special issue, manuscripts must be submitted by May 31, 2019.

JQSH aims to help healthcare professionals improve their practice by publishing evidence from real-life examples of quality and safety improvement outcomes in various disciplines, environments, and countries. The Journal publishes original research, systematic and narrative reviews of the literature, quality improvement studies, case studies, letters, and invited commentary and editorials.
